Submitting tickets has never been easier. No need to remember portal logins or links, no writing down error messages or scrambling to find the correct “tech words” for the problem you’re having. Just press the button, submit a ticket, and rest easy knowing you’ve given your helpdesk team everything they need to resolve your problem — all while barely lifting a finger.

1

Press the Helpdesk Button.

As soon as you are faced with a problem or error, open up our software by pressing the Helpdesk Button, F# key, or desktop icon.

2

Tell us the basics.

We’re serious. All we need is your name and email, a very short description of your problem, and your preferences on how we contact you. We’ll handle the technical stuff, no sweat*.

*You have the ability to review the information you submit to us, but the more you provide, the faster we can resolve your request.

3

Hit submit and we’ll handle the rest.

That’s it! Your ticket will jump straight into our queue, complete with diagnostics data that we’ll use to get your device back in working order.
